

apnay sayvak ka-o kabahu na bisaarahu

ibI wvI umhI w 5] (829-1)	bilaaval mehlaa 5.	Bilaaval, Fifth Mehl:
Apnysyk kaukbhu n ibsrrhu]	apnay sayvak ka-o kabahu na bisaarahu.	Never forget Your servant, O Lord.
air I wghu sAwml pB myr pth b pIiq gIbI bIcrrhu]1] rhwau]	ur laagahu su-aamee parab h mayray poorab pareet gobind beecharahu. 1 rahaa-o.	Hug me close in Your embrace, O God, my Lord and Master; consider my primal love for You, O Lord of the Universe. 1 Pause
piqq pIvn pB ibrd u qm r o hmry dK irdYmq Drrhu]	patit paavan parab h birad tum ^H aaro hamray dokh ridai mat Dh aarahu.	It is Your Natural Way, God, to purify sinners; please do not keep my errors in Your Heart.
j lvn pIn hir Dnu sKu qm hl hamYptl uik p kir j rhu]1]	jeevan paraan har Dhan sukh tum hee ha-umai patal kirpaa kar jaarahu. 1	You are my life, my breath of life, O Lord, my wealth and peace; be merciful to me, and burn away the curtain of egotism. 1 j I ibhth mln kq j lvn dD ibn rhnu kq brru]	jal bihoon meen kat jeevan dooDh binaa rahan kat baaro.	Without water, how can the fish survive? Without milk, how can the baby survive?
j n nink ipA w s crn kml n@kl pjK drs sAwml sK swro]2]7]123]	jan naanak pi-aas charan kamlan ^H kee payk h daras su-aamee sukh saaro. 2 7 123	Servant Nanak thirsts for the Lord's Lotus Feet; gazing upon the Blessed Vision of his Lord and Master's Darshan, he finds the essence of peace. 2 7 123