

satgur parchai har naam samaanaa

ibI wvI umhI w 3] (797-9)	bilaaval mehlaa 3.	Bilaaval, Third Mehl:
swhb qy syku sy swhb qy ikAw ko khY bhaww]	saahib tay sayvak sayv saahib tay ki-aa ko kahai bahaanaa.	My Lord and Master has made me His servant, and blessed me with His service; how can anyone argue about this?
ASw ieku qrw Ky ubinAw hY sB mih ekusmwaw]1]	aisaa ik tayraa khayl bani-aa hai sabh meh ayk samaanaa. 1	Such is Your play, One and Only Lord; You are the One, contained among all. 1
siqqir prc'hir naim smaww]	satgur parchai har naam samaanaa.	When the True Guru is pleased and appeased, one is absorbed in the Lord's Name.
ij su krmu hv' so siqgur upwey Anidnu I wgv' shj iDAwaw]1] rhaww]	jis karam hovai so satgur paa-ay an-din laagai sahj Dhi-aanaa. 1 rahaa-o.	When the True Guru is pleased and appeased, one is absorbed in the Lord's Name. One who is blessed by the Lord's Mercy, finds the True Guru; night and day, he automatically remains focused on the Lord's meditation. 1 Pause ikAw kael qrl syw kryikAw ko kry AiBmwaw]	ki-aa ko-ee tayree sayvaa karay ki-aa ko karay abhimaanaa.	How can I serve You? How can I be proud of this?
j b Apnl j iq iKcih qlsAwml qb kael krau idKw viKAwaw]2]	jab apunee jot khincheh too su-aamee tab ko-ee kara-o dikhaa vakhi-aanaa. 2	When You withdraw Your Light, O Lord and Master, then who can speak and teach? 2
Awpy gurw cy' w hY AwpY AwpY gixI inDwaw]	aapay gur chaylaa hai aapay aapay gunee niDhaanaa.	You Yourself are the Guru, and You Yourself are the chaylaa, the humble disciple; You Yourself are the treasure of virtue.
ij au Awip cl wey iqv' kael cil Y ij au hir Bwv' Bgvaww]3]	ji-o aap chala-ay tivai ko-ee chaalai ji-o har bhaavai bhagvaanaa. 3	As You cause us to move, so do we move, according to the Pleasure of Your Will, O Lord God. 3
khq nwnku qlsaw swhbu kaawu j wv' qry kumw]	kahat naanak too saachaa saahib ka-un jaanaai tayray kaamaa ^N .	Says Nanak, You are the True Lord and Master; who can know Your actions?
ieknw Gr mih dyvifAwel ieik Brim Bvih AiBmwaw]4]3]	iknaa ghar meh day vadi-aa-ee ik bharam bhavah abhimaanaa. 4 3	Some are blessed with glory in their own homes, while others wander in doubt and pride. 4 3