

har bhagtaa kaa aasraa an naahee thaa-o

ibI wI umhI w 5] (815-1)	bilaaval mehlaa 5.	Bilaaval, Fifth Mehl:
hir BgqW kW AAsrW An nwhI TwaU]	har bhag taa kaa aasraa an naahee thaa -o.	The Lord is the Hope and Support of His devotees; there is nowhere else for them to go.
qWxUdIbWxU prvW Dnu pB qrw nwaU]1]	taan deebaan parvaar Dhan parab h tay raa naa-o. 1	O God, Your Name is my power, realm, relatives and riches. 1
kir ikrpw pB AwpXl Apny dws riK I ley]	kar kirpaa parab h aap nee apn ay daas rak h lee-ay.	God has granted His Mercy, and saved His slaves.
inlk inlk kir pcyj mkwiI gBley]1] rhwaU]	nin dak nin daa kar pachay jamkaal garsee-ay. 1 rahaa-o.	The slanderers rot in their slander; they are seized by the Messenger of Death. 1 Pause stqW eku iDAwvW dSr ko nwh]	santaa ayk Dhi -aavanaa doosar ko naahi.	The Saints meditate on the One Lord, and no other.
eksU Ang'bnql rivAw sb Owie]2]	aykas aagai baynt ee ravi-aa sarab thaa-ay. 2	They offer their prayers to the One Lord, who is pervading and permeating all places. 2
kQW prwqn ieau sxl Bgqn kl bwnI]	kathaa puraa tan I-o sun ee bhag tan kee baanee.	I have heard this old story, spoken by the devotees, sgl dSt KlF KlF kleyj n I ley mwnI]3]	sagal dusat kh and kh and kee-ay jan lee-ay maanee. 3	that all the wicked are cut apart into pieces, while His humble servants are blessed with honor. 3
siq bcn nwnku kh'prgt sB mwh]	sa t bachan naanak kahai pargat sab h maahi.	Nanak speaks the true words, which are obvious to all.
pB kysyk srix pB iqn kau Bauwh]4]26]56]	parab h kay sayvak saran parab tin ka-o bh a-o naahi. 4 26 56	God's servants are under God's Protection; they have absolutely no fear. 4 26 56