

khojət khojət mai firaa khoja-o ban thaan

ibI wvI umhI w 5] (816-8)	bilaaval mehlaa 5.	Bilaaval, Fifth Mehl:
Kj q Kj q mYiPrw Kj aubn Qwn]	khojət khojət mai firaa khoja -o ban thaan.	Searching, searching, I wander around searching, in the woods and other places.
ACI ACpI ABpI pIB AjsyBgvwn]1]	achhal achhayd abhayd parabh aisay bhagvaan. 1	He is undeceivable, imperishable, inscrutable; such is my Lord God. 1
kb dKau pIBu Awpnw Awqm kI rIlg]	kab daykh-a-u parabh aapnaa aatam kai rang.	When shall I behold my God, and delight my soul?
j wgn qyspnw BI w bslAY pB slIlg]1] rhwau]	jaagan tay supnaa bhalaa basee-ai parabh sang. 1 rahaa-o.	Even better than being awake, is the dream in which I dwell with God. 1 Pause
brn Awstn swsqrsnau drsn kI ipAws]	baran aasram saastar sun-o darsan kee pi-aas.	Listening to the Shaastras teaching about the four social classes and the four stages of life, I grow thirsty for the Blessed Vision of the Lord.
rIun rK n pIt qq TIKr Aibnws]2]	roop na raykh na panch tat thaakur abinaas. 2	He has no form or outline, and He is not made of the five elements; our Lord and Master is imperishable. 2
Ehu srIpu slIn khIh ivrI y j gIsr]	oh saroop santan kaheh virlay jogeesur.	How rare are those Saints and great Yogis, who describe the beautiful form of the Lord.
kir ikrpw j w kauimI yDin Din qyelsr]3]	kar kirpaa jaa ka-o milay Dhan Dhan tay eesur. 3	Blessed, blessed are they, whom the Lord meets in His Mercy. 3
so Ahtjir so bahry ibnsy qh Brmw]	so antar so baahray binsay tah bharmaa.	They know that He is deep within, and outside as well; their doubts are dispelled.
nwnk iqsu pIBu BjtAw j w ky pIn krmw]4]31]61]	naanak tis parabh bhayti-aa jaa kay pooran karmaa. 4 31 61	O Nanak, God meets those, whose karma is perfect. 4 31 61